To Whom It May Concern:

RE: RE-NU-IT Home Improvements

We recently had RE-NU-IT Home Improvements come to our house and rebuild our car port/sun deck. The initial visit by Jason and Dan to look at the project was both relaxed and informative. We found him to be knowledgeable and interested in the way we saw the project.

During demolition and construction both Jason and Dan were polite, hardworking and constantly kept us informed of progress. As the construction progressed both came up with ideas that would improve the project at minimal cost. We now have a garage and sun deck that meets all our needs and exceeds our initial expectations.

I would not hesitate to recommend this company for any project and fully intend to contact them again with other projects we will be doing in the future.
